“Peter said to Jesus, ‘Master, it is good that we are here; let us make three tents...but he did not know what he was saying.’ (Luke 9:33)

The Second Sunday of Lent always gives us a familiar story with the account of the Transfiguration of Jesus on Mount Tabor. Peter is stunned by the experience and wants to hang on to it. Building a tent or some kind of memorial to the occasion seems nice enough, right? But Peter is our “every-person,” so to speak, since he represents our little human attempts to grasp the glory of God. Sometimes we really don’t know how to understand the glory of God. We don’t know what we are saying.

We might understand this with a little humor. One of my favorite baseball legends passed away last September: Yogi Berra. He lived to be 90 years old and he never lost his sense of humor. When asked by his wife if he wanted to be buried in New York or his hometown of St. Louis, he said: “I don’t know, surprise me.” See if you like a few other gems: “Always go to other people’s funerals. Otherwise they won’t come to yours.” “The future ain’t what it used to be.” “It’s déjà vu all over again.”

St. Peter probably wanted to personally welcome Yogi Berra into heaven since he was a man after his own heart - and ours, too. In Peter, we have the image of a flawed, but humble man. The same could be said about Yogi Berra. He knew what he wanted to say and do, but human frailty often got in the way of his words or actions. “If you don’t know where you are going, you’ll end up someplace else” is a Yogi-ism that easily applies to Lent and our rededication to a lifelong journey of conversion.

I suspect today’s gospel was one of Yogi Berra’s favorites. He once said: “You can observe a lot just by watching.” How about: “It was impossible to get a conversation going, everybody was talking too much.”

Conversion and a humble approach to faith are difficult messages to a society that puts God far down the list of priorities. Humility is nowhere to be found in most of today’s political headlines, are they? How many coaches could use a little bit of Yogi: “I tell the kids, somebody’s gotta win, somebody’s gotta lose. Just don’t fight about it. Just try to get better.”

We know that God works wonders in humble souls to reflect the glory of God. We see it in so many of the gospel stories and lives of the saints. Today, Pope Francis continues to inspire us and show us the way to bring mercy into a world that desperately needs it. Let us stay dedicated to a prayerful and merciful path this Lent. If you need a clean laugh or two, you can find more quips and slips about Yogi and many other baseball legends at: baseball-almanac.com. Under players/quotes/hitters you will find a list of Yogi-isms. But you may not be able to quote Yogi exactly, because: “I never said most of the things I said...Take it with a grin of salt.”

Maybe he did know what he was saying.

THE 10 COMMANDMENTS FOR EVERYDAY LIFE

1. Prayer is not a “spare wheel” that you pull out when in trouble, but it is a “steering wheel” that directs the right path throughout.
2. So why is a car’s windshield so large and the rearview mirror so small? Because our past is not as important as our future. So, look ahead and move on.
3. Friendship is like a book. It takes few seconds to burn, but it takes years to write.
4. All things in life are temporary. If it’s going well, enjoy it—that won’t last long. If it’s going badly—don’t worry, that won’t last long either.
5. Old friends are gold! New friends are diamond! If you get a diamond, don’t forget the gold! Because to hold a diamond, you always need a base of gold!
6. Often when we lose hope and think this is the end, God smiles from above and says, “Relax, sweetheart, it’s just a bend, not the end!”
7. When God solves your problems, you have faith in His abilities; when God doesn’t solve your problems, He has faith in your abilities.
8. A blind person asked St. Anthony, “Can there be anything worse than losing eye sight?” He replied, “Yes, losing your vision!”
9. When you pray for others, God listens to you and blesses them; sometimes, when you are safe and happy, remember that someone has prayed for you.
10. Worrying does not take away tomorrow’s troubles, it takes away today’s peace.
