Dear Friends,

This is Respect Life Sunday!

In his last book, Memory and Identity, St. John Paul II wrote, "The limit imposed upon evil, of which man is both perpetrator and victim, is ultimately Divine Mercy." Pope Francis called for this Jubilee Year of Mercy as a time of healing. As we look around us on Respect Life Sunday, we see that need for healing. Our families, the basic units of stability and life in the Church, are crumbling under the pressures of a culture of death. Abortion takes the life of our unborn children, suicide robs people of hope, and a growing acceptance of euthanasia erodes our compassion for the sick and dying. Our voice is being drowned out by the cries for a false mercy. A "mercy" that tells us that death can be a blessing because suffering is to be avoided at all costs. One of my new favorite quotes this year comes from the Diary of St. Faustina, "O my Jesus, I understand well that, just as illness is measured with a thermometer, and a high fever tells us of the seriousness of the illness, so also, in the spiritual life, suffering is the thermometer which measures the love of God in a soul." (774)

In this Year of Mercy, we must remember what we are told in the second reading today; God did not give us a spirit of cowardice! Be strong and stir the flame that you hold in your very soul, and fan the flames in your families. We need to remind people, shout it out, scream it from the top of our lungs, that suffering is a tool to be embraced. It is something that we have in this life to give us a tiny glimpse into the infinite compassion and love of God. To embrace suffering is to fully embrace life and in turn, embrace God. Drown out the cries for false mercy with your voice! Drown the cries for false mercy with your actions! Embrace life in all the messiness that it presents. Love the mother who finds herself overcome with an unplanned pregnancy. Volunteer your time, talent, and treasure to support the most vulnerable lives around you. Visit the homebound to lift their spirits. Love and spend time with the ill and dying. Feed the homeless and give them warm clothing to make it through the adverse weather. Adopt a child and teach him/her about the infinite love that God has for all his people. Attend Mass as a family and live out your Faith in your own homes. Build families that embrace suffering as readily as joy and send them out into the world. But before you do all that, take advantage of these last weeks in the Jubilee Year of Mercy. If you haven't gone to confession recently, now is the time to return to the confessional. Pray, confess, forgive, and receive forgiveness so that you can be a flame that God can spread to the rest of the world. Set the world on fire with the Love of God and remember the words of St. Teresa of Calcutta, "I have found the paradox, that if you love until it hurts, there can be no more hurt, only more love."

Volunteers Wanted for Corporal Work of Mercy, Visit the Imprisoned as Messengers of Hope
MT 25:36—"I was in prison and you came to me."

The St. Agnes Parish Prison and Jail Ministry is seeking volunteers to primarily visit and provide communion service to inmates at various Contra Costa detention centers and Federal and State prisons located near or around the City of Concord. Initially, we are allotted one Sunday a month for our ministry. In addition to prison/jail ministry, we also need volunteers to assist in our Angel Tree Program. This program involves securing gifts for the children of incarcerated parent(s), gift wrapping and tagging, distribution, and spreading the good news of Jesus Christ to the children. Be advised that volunteers are subject to stringent background check and security clearance, as well as certification requirements. It takes time to get qualified, so volunteer now! Call or e-mail Jorge Luna Garcia at 925-383-9547 or jorge7garcia@yahoo.com.
